Abstract

Recently, the politics of science racism, which relates to race and genetics, have drawn attention to three shades, which includes that of the Mind, Plasma and our Skin. The symphony of brain and blood, its colors - but differences in the skin color has constantly defines who we are. This paper observes an incremental upshot in luminous mind philosophy and the need to bridle the Caucasians claim to a superior intellect with no empirical evidence. And concludes that white supremacist obstinacy and emphasis on skin color would continue to accentuate the fault lines of racism and ultimately redefines our future together as people.

1. BACKGROUND

The recently published article, 'How Europeans evolved to have white skin, starting from around 8,000 years ago' (Loula and Eleftheriou, 2015), revives an age long controversy about genetics distinctions in the respective intellectual capacities of Caucasians and people of color (black/Negro will be used interchangeably). The credibility of this claim rests on three major symbiotic molds: The first is the strong believe in intellectual inferiority of persons of color - a core assumption of ideological racism, which is convenient, reassuring and a remarkably irrepressible myth. The second conjecture is religious or faith based. (Essentially, Islam and Christianity). This represents the Opium for the people; a sort of mind controlling tool. The third pillar is the politics of science racism, which relates to race and genetics. The first censure to claim by Caucasian to a superior intellect comes from the logic of time. Through the millennia for instance, there are historical fact that explains the liquid nature of group intellectual capacity or dominance - the dynasty or empire curve fully explains this trend. In this respect, and comparable to beliefs, it could be argued that intellectual capacity is transient, ephemeral and fleeting - an attribute that is constantly changing across time, space and genres. Human race is very much in its infancy and hence, it would be mental poisoning, a cognitive errors and logical fallacies to freeze intellectual capacities of a race in time. The cognitive bias that Caucasians promotes is an upshot of the luminous mind philosophy - a feature of human mind that must endure momentary defilements, like the Sun being obscured by the clouds. An aspect that if discarded would bring man - irrespective of race or creed one step closer to ultimate perfection and freedom of man. Sadly, this is far fetched due to greed, self-esteem and myopias. In the aforementioned three pillars, the choice of religion as a tool of mind warfare is preposterous and therefore, limits human growth and development the way it was unbundled. This background is essential before proceeding to examine the historical context of the evolutionary controversy itself. Darker skin population it was claimed - to have inhabited the continent of Europe around 40,000 years ago, and these pioneers exists in Europe untill 8,500 years ago. Fittingly, ancient populations in Spain, Luxembourg and Hungary had dark skin during the said period. On this premise, inferences were made that Caucasians are in fact a fairly new development globally and that Europeans have not always been light skinned.

From the standpoint of social science, the issue is not about core or irrefutable skin color; but, if anything, what such differences presage. For instance, as noted in the preamble, to what extent did the oldest dehumanizing racial stereotypes of intellectual superiority supported by empirical evidence? For instance, we could query the index or indices applied for measuring intelligence, aptitude and achievements - if it is akin to cultural affinity, ideals, environment, desires and perhaps issues of core values of another race in time. First we do not have the same needs, ideals or aspirations and if we do, we may not necessarily follow the same path and thus, it is legitimate to interrogate the level of empiricism of the claim. Assumptions were made that could be forgiven under social faculties, but if tested scientifically, may not pass critical tests.

2. RELIGIOUS TOOL

In my clime (Yoruba), and before the arrival of colonialist, the ancient people controls and makes use of natural phenomenon such as rain and lightning (Thunder) (Sango, Olukoso) for various reasons. My grandfather discusses with me as hunters and gatherers - on how he could shorten distance traveled by days and weeks (kanoko) or disappearing acts in event of grave and sudden danger (Egbe) - Then (Afeiri) is complete stealth or invisibility, whereby, an individual being search for or wanted would be present, but remain invisible to his enemies. I know about (Ayeta) a situation that when the enemy fires certain bullets (missiles) at you, but will not even touch you while you have enough time to plot an escape. I know about certain applications, that when applied to your legs, snakes can never bite you even when you mistakenly stepped on it (anti-snake bite). In the past Yoruba tribes know the secret to longevity and also through Ifa (Opele) (diagnostic material) they could accurately diagnose issues and predict the future and so on. All these and more were lost to Christianity. Such acts and people that embarked on them were seen as wizards, black magicians and it was deemed fetish. Africans were made to believe that only the blood of Jesus can save and you should reject in totality all form of self-help. Had we develop on these paths; perhaps, we could have found shorter way to go to planet Mars faster than the clumsy NASA methods as a whole. These accounts are well known and documented by few 'Ifa Priest' and some custodian of our cultures and traditions. That being said, Black Africans have achieved great heights in areas, which are deemed limited in scope due to forged historical facts. Before now, Black Egyptians were distinguished mathematicians, astrophysicist with high-level extra-planetary experience among others. It is still fresh that their scripts and discoveries were stolen and are today being slowly improved upon.

If for anything, why, would a 'race' deceive another into a set of believe about heaven and hell for purpose of control infinitum - or about marriage to some seventy-seven virgins, if they kill for God, whereby, they know better. While there are short-term gains, the long-term effect is simply too deep to envision. In the least, this short-term materiel gains is disruptive to another mode of civilization and perhaps the greatest paradigm of Black African growth and real evolution. The overriding motive behind this sort of engagement is to cheat. Thousands of years down the line, human race could not even be cured of mere cancer afflictions, when we should be in the race to decrypting immortality or as I mentioned previously, we could have found our way to travel to other planets by now. And this bring up proper, the enquiry as to from where do 'pale' skin people originate?

3. ORIGIN MYTH

The importance of this question permeates time, space and race. Where do Caucasians originated? To approach this probe from racial point of view, would demean and over simplified and probably defeat the purpose of this enquiry. People of color must interrogate this sticky issue in order to regain the cognitive - from years of deceits and libels, fear, horror and trepidation. The enquiry has become vital because of the persistence, pervasiveness and the potency of religion and the insidious purpose it has served over time. There is a need to deconstruct the stereotype advanced in most religious scripts. First, it is preposterous for a race to insert the false idea into the consciousness of others regarding evolution when it suits them and denying evolution when it does not. For instance is today's Europeans a by-product of hunter-gatherers and farmers of at least three ancient populations; that mixed together (to produce Caucasians) 8,000 years past. This patchwork of evolution was replicated in different places across Europe. Why did this progression ceased? Further claim suggests that 40,000 years ago, the population in Europe were dark skinned; this is equally true of Australia, and New Zealand (The Aborigines). The white population in this Oceania continent could not have been a patchwork of evolution? What transpire with the Aborigines or the people of color herein is still fresh – acquiring the right cognizance would mean an enquiry into what process, actions or actors erase all the chronicles of massacres, genocides and annihilations of the original people – how, and who guaranteed the mythos?

4. CAUCASIANS AND THE MYTH

It is stimulating to engage with the topical issue about the origin of the pale skinned people – where they came from and when? According to Loula & co, by comparing key parts of DNA across the genomes of 83 ancient humans from European archaeological sites with recent ones from the 1000 Genomes Project, Iain Matheson of Harvard University's lab of population, and geneticist David Reich, discovered the genes linked to skin pigmentation that had survived the natural selection process across Europe. The study went further to explain that the Africans that came to Europe lacked two genes – SLC24A5 and SLC45A2 – which lead to the depigmentation and lightening of the skin. But in the far north however, ancient bodies in Sweden from 7,700 years ago were found to have both these genes, and a third causing blue eyes, meaning 'they' were pale-skinned and blue-eyed.

There are other satirical accounts however, about this 'they' (fallen angels). While this may be sardonic, it is rational to adopt the alien parody. Ruminating deeply, and in retrospect – Hollywood effect or depictions aside, there are reasons to believe about aliens visiting the Earth and in some cases, we have been exposed to Hollywood version of what their motives were. Is war with Negroids conceivable? Up till now, proxy attempts have been observed and so far, more guns (AK47) have been ferried into Africa for the population to kill each other, yet the population is growing. All kinds of pharmaceutical industries have introduced microbes and all form of deadly viruses into Africa, it is working, but, perhaps, too slowly – a kind of speculation here: Seems like time is running out on something?

To direct our attention, we may examine the root cause of incessant and ongoing conflicts between the Caucasians, North Koreans and Persians that seems to have been around the earth long enough? Again, while we may not probe into where the Arabs originated from, we may want to examine why these population are pugnacious towards the Caucasians after the Peloponnesian wars, the battle of Solferino, the hundred year wars, WW1&11 that was predominantly fought amongst the Caucasians population itself? Notwithstanding a promising fifth generation counter-approaches to the Arab (mainly Sunnis) led terrorism; there is a deep and unsettling chasm that threatens to precipitate a new black conflict. The gulch is racial, the origins are manifold; it however, embraces the epoch of enlightenment brought about by Internet dialectics, and the 2016 electoral process in the United States.

5. TRUMPIOCRACY

Three reasons stands out for Trump's classic election – why Trumpiocracy qualifies as a new democracy terminology. The first reason is the audaciousness of Russia. Aside from successfully dismembering the erstwhile Soviet Union, the U.S. and Russia are known to be a long time antagonists. Thus, there is a need to underscore what might have rekindled Putting's sudden interest in the socio-political economy of the United States. The KGB is working stiff to discredit this general believe that the American elections were tinkered with by Putin to favor Trump. Another reason why we need to study the phenomenon goes beyond ideological issues. Ideally, Communism and Capitalism are not supposed to merge. However, we need to look beyond idealism and focus our attention to the pragmatic realm of Satanism (Occultism) as a probable cause. The third reason why we should study the election that brought Trump to power is the issue about the end state. We are obligated to rigorously interrogate why this alliance with Putin was forged and track the trend across other sovereigns. We need to examine carefully, why Trump is being celebrated in Rome, Moscow, Tel Aviv and London despite his mien. Why Le Pen was frantic about an alliance with Trump and Putin while seeking ticket for the French Presidency in 2017, and what was responsible for her failure? We may also be interested in why Brexit is coming about the time it did, despite the supreme contexts in which the European Union was fogged. What role did the Royal House in London played in Brexit and why? This is the perspective in which we should begin to study the person of Donald Trump and Vladimir Putin within the framework of a looming mobocracy. A need to study the contextual white supremacist anomie on Negroids has ominously become intense.

Having laid the basis for a probable clash of the two extreme races, we cannot lose sight of Obama factor in all these. Barely 12 months after Obama left the office, all that Trump has done is to attack Obama legacies - including the Obamacare; without good grounds. Thus, the notion about imminent racial war as I intend to speculate in this treatise, was sharply reinforced during the 2016 U.S. Presidential election. It is predicated on Obama glitch. A dark skinned man in the White House was significant enough to trigger this dialog. Immediately after Obama was elected, I was racially profiled while traveling in a cab from JFK International Airport to Brooklyn in the U.S. On this occasion, I was chauffeured-driven by a Caucasian who was oddly very hostile towards me. Usually, it is a trade practice for taxi drivers in 'advanced' countries to be cautious and friendly - a business and reporting feature. He was very upset about a black man in the White House. I engaged him on the beauty of the American dreams and democratic norms; but he would not take any of my academic colloquies. The Taxi Driver became more incensed and eventually dropped me off without collecting a fee - but at the wrong place. He had enough, and was closing for the day. I waved my right to call the regulating numbers to seek redress and simply waved down another cab, this time a Ghanaian Cab driver. Since this happenstance, I could not resist the urge to follow the political development in the United States for good reasons, until the 2016 episode. Sadly, xenophobia has heightened since Trump became the U.S. president. Poignantly, both Trump and Ivanka (First Lady) were migrants to the United State, and I sometimes mused about Ivanka being a KGB agent, I which case, the United States may be under attack already. The African Americans are also going through anxieties. "We are being hunted," Valerie Castile spoke about a black man in the wrong place. And so it makes sense that justice was not served for her son's murder from a "justice" system that works hand in hand with the police who do the hunting. The link to the CNN interview is, therefore, very instructive. It summarizes today's America, but fundamentally the Caucasian world. A system that would not hold accountable a white police officer who prejudicially killed Philando Castile in front of his girlfriend's four-year-old, on Father's Day weekend. Relatedly, and before making my conclusions, could God believably be Negroid?

6. IS GOD BLACK?

To defy the curio and inclination to probe into this subject is not only challenging and conflicting, it is also stimulating. This could be due to personal over exposure to the Bible teachings about what is good and evil as a young child. Perhaps, also due to the jolt I received from a core Jewish tour guide during a raucous debate about Jesus Christ on a Bus on tour from Tel Aviv to the Dead Sea in 2009. Christian Bible is Jewish literature book she mooted. I was jolted from my seat, because I was engrossed by this time with the agricultural wonders I saw in the Israeli deserts. My first reaction to my seatmate in the bus was - is she all right? But tour guide went on and on to enlighten us about things that should not be in this article. But, I took note of her conviction and complete disregard as she talk about Jesus in the like of a common criminal. It was a wistful feeling and I wonder if the creator of the universe is black? So I made decision to buy so many religious books on this trip and made some evaluations after going through some of them.

King Ramses and other characters from Egypt mythology were blacks, so was Moses, Aaron and the Jewish population that went through the Red Sea. Ramses II was the third pharaoh of the Nineteenth Dynasty of Egypt. He often is regarded as the greatest, most celebrated, and most powerful pharaoh of the Egyptian Empire. He was African in its writing, its culture and its way of thinking. Also, the Tribe of Levi is one of the tribes of Israel, traditionally descended from Levi, son of Jacob, or high priest of the Israelites. Moses and his brother, Aaron, were both descendants of the Tribe of Levi. According to accounts from the Virtual Jewish World, the Ibo of Benei Zevulun trace their ancestry to Jacob's fifth son, Zevulun. Tradition holds that a descendant of Zevulum named Zevulun married Oji, a descendant of the tribe of Judah. Also, the Ibo of Benei Menashsheh are believed to be descendant from Menashsheh (Menashe), the son of Joseph. Jacob's eleventh son. The Amichi, Ichi and Nnewi-Ichi ethnicities trace their lineage to Menashe. The tribe of Zebulun settled to the west of the tribe of Issachar, in the middle of the Galilee. Ibo's are dark skin people living in the south Eastern part of Nigeria. I went on a journey by road to investigate this claim-this section is being written in a village called Ovim in Isuikwuato Local Government area of Abia state, Nigeria. The people here are truly black people undeniably; a requiem for skeptic and importantly those that for centuries have been enjoying the deceits about the real characters in the book of Exodus. Today's Jews in Israel and away, are probably Jewish by religion or alien impostors from another sphere. The Egyptians and Jews that we know today are pale skinned. This completely contradicts the Jewish orthodoxy's conspiratorial charge; save that ancient Jews are Negros. Could this answer why both religions are under attack? Recall, that early scripts were carefully and deliberately influenced to project wrong religious perceptions, allegories and narratives that were based on modern Jewish metaphor, symbols and simile. Not only this, wars were waged on existing Negro population, including the inquisition fable and in the course; books and existing civilizations were destroyed and replaced with deceits and falsehood.

God's right hand: Stardust cloud creates spectacular image of 175 light year wide hand in space

Paintings and fables in the Holy Books were distorted to reflect white characters. While angels were depicted as white, everything evil including the metaphoric devil itself were represented as blacks. Could reverse be the case?

The Caucasians are seeking God albeit in a different way. To ensure uninterrupted enquiry, the holy book(s) was altered, tainted and misrepresented before it was foisted on all of us, particularly the Black slaves. God created man in his own image and likeness – thus, by the reason of the word and the rules of logic, reasoning, and critical thinking, this would translate to similarity, resemblance, reproduction, cloning and sameness. And by the same logic invisible things were made manifest as we later found out that characters from Adam, Abraham, and twelve tribes of Judah and so on were people of color. Could God conceivably be a black man? Reasons adduced aside, watching videos of white police assaulting blacks or shooting them (live) reveals one thing – deep hatred and retribution. But recall, that Lucifer was the angel of light, white and remarkably beautiful. Validity of the enquiry as to whether God overestimate his own of ability when he created Lucifer becomes provoked. How? Why is it that Judeo Christian bible was a stolen and corrupted version of religions predating Judaism, Christianity, and Islam from hundreds to thousand years? We can only suggest herein an agenda to create a one-world slave state with the “chosen” few ruling at the top. If this is correct, what then are the options for the world Black populations.

7. BLACK PROFANITY

The coming anarchy is predestined and deriving hence from, it is key to appraise what the Caucasians motives are towards the people of color. The object is not to assuage the Caucasians, as this is not likely. Their plan spans centuries and it is eternal. People of color must look again at all forms of imposed religion. Why do we go on Pilgrimage–it signifies where we came from originally–Jerusalem and Mecca? Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, Gadhafi of Libya and some spiritual songsters knew something about whites - if you are black, you are not only an African; you are the authentic image of God - a free spirit that does not have to visit the Chatham House that is devoted to Africa extractive resources and society, and African maritime security? With focus on Angola, Central Africa and the Great Lakes, East Africa, the Horn of Africa, Nigeria, southern Africa and West Africa. Somewhat, wealth of Africa is siphoned as they are rigorously preparing for a different kind of engagement.

8. CONCLUDING REMARKS

I will like to conclude this article with 160-year-old Seneca story and the century old Jewish close call in Africa. First, in 1857, a Negro village called Seneca was destroyed to give room for today's Central Park in New York. Though the last of the Negro slaves wasn't emancipated until 1827 - the community began in 1825 and eventually spanned from 82nd Street to 89th Street along what is now the western edge of Central Park. Despite being a place of refuge for Negroid, it was razed down in 1857 by whites. About 46 years after Seneca, this time in Africa and in response to Theodor Herzl in 1903 - the British Colonial Secretary Joseph Chamberlin in a similar fashion to Seneca, offered 5,000 square miles for a Jewish settlement in East Africa. The location was at Gwas Ngishu on the top of the Mau Escarpment in Kenya. One may be inclined to ask-where did white Jews originated and when? What information do the British knew about this white Jews that inform their decision -why settle in Africa? After all, ancient Jews specifically, the descendants of Zevulum and Asher tribes are Negroes.

It is thought that similarly displaced ancient Hebrews began to arrive in West Africa before 202 BCE, the date associated with the Nok civilization. Thus, Black populations do not have good memories of the Caucasians, not before, not at present and will not be in the future. White would continue to oppress Blacks and as an African, I could taste the feeling of this distaste. In the end, white tenacity and skewed proclivity for their creator and the creator of the universe would become their encumbrance-a repeat of the Tower of Babel.
